

AutoDoc Transfers to Research Solutions' Article Galaxy Platform

Over the past 25 years, FIZ Karlsruhe has provided the document delivery services, AutoDoc, to ensure fast, reliable, and copyright-compliant full-text delivery to our customers. With much consideration, we are excited to share that we will be transferring our service to our renowned partner, Research Solutions. We are confident that Research Solutions' Article Galaxy platform will provide users with an easy and fast document delivery service.

Why use Article Galaxy?

We chose to team up with Research Solutions because of the importance and speed of accessing full-text articles. When you need to gather full-text documents from a bibliography, it needs to be simple and readily accessible. Article Galaxy can fulfill this request easily and quickly so your scientific information-gathering process is never hindered or delayed.

- Access 100M+ Full-Text Journals: Just like AutoDoc, Research Solutions offers its users an almost 100% fulfillment rate of all orders. Many of which are instant via their platform.
- Single Source for Content: Receive access to both born-digital articles and print content that will be digitized by our world-class content team.
- Comprehensive Search: The search interface of Article Galaxy is designed to make finding articles as easy and efficient as possible with key integrations to your discovery environments like PubMed, Embase, Web of Science, SciFinder, etc.
- Subscription and Token Integration: You can add your holdings data to the platform so that you'll receive article-level link-outs to your licensed content.
- Administrator Reporting and Statistics: Article Galaxy's administrator dashboard will provide instant insights and exportable reports of the account history.
- Authentication Options: Article Galaxy provides various authentication options for users, including self-registration and a single sign-on (SSO) option.
- Co-Branded Homepage: Article Galaxy provides a configurable homepage, with personalization options for logos and links, for your library's needs.
